PROPELLORS BY AIRPLANE NOW USED BY REDS

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Nov. 15.—The Bolshevik government is proud of its attempts to solve the problem of land locomotion by the use of airplane propellers attached to railway cars, automobiles and boats. It has not been discouraged by accidents.

The most notable crash was that at Serbohov, 60 miles from Moscow on the Petrograd line, when Abakovsky, the adapted of the air propeller for these new uses, was killed in a passenger car together with numbers of delegates to the third international congress.

The car was going at a speed of about 70 miles an hour when it jumped the track. The victims were brought to Moscow and buried with great ceremony in the Red Square, against the Kremlin wall, where lies John Reed, the American communist and journalist.

PRETTY THINGS WOMEN MAKE FOR THEMSELVES

BEADS and pendants of colored sealing wax, strung on silk cord or small metallic chains or baby ribbon (in velvet or satin) are having a great vogue. They are easily made and the work is fascinating. Very inexpensive metallic chains and girlies can be made handsomely decorative by applying flowers made of sealing wax to them. They are fashionable with coats and frocks and replace the belts or girlies made of fabrics. In the illustration above a necklace of beads, strung on a silk cord, a gun metal girdle with wax roses applied to its metal medallions, slides and tassels, and a long pendant and slide on a strand of baby velvet ribbon, are good examples of fashionable ornaments.

To make the beads and medallions, very simple and inexpensive materials are required. They include a large-sized steel knitting needle, a steel knife, a small alcohol lamp, a little piece of cotton cloth and several sticks of colored sealing wax. A candle or gas flame may take the place of the alcohol lamp, and a glass of cold water is a worker's outfit.

Select the color wanted and, with a heated knife, cut off two pieces of wax, each half the size of the bead to be made. Heat the steel knitting needle and fasten the pieces of wax to it, one on either side of the needle. Hold the wax above the flame, turning slowly until the bead is formed, then dip it in water to cool. Remove and dry the bead with the cloth. Choose colors to add to the bead. Heat each stick in turn and drop a little wax on the bead; revolve over the flame again. The colors will flow around the bead, blending in varying designs. Cool the bead again, dry and pass over the flame to give luster. Heat the needle on each side of the bead until it is loosened, slide back and forth on the needle and remove. While the bead is warm it may be pressed by the fingers or knife, or on a piece of glass, into different shapes.

CHILEANS LIKE MORAL ACTION OF UNCLE SAM

(By Associated Press)

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 15.—Chileans admire the moral and spiritual force of the United States more than its greatness and material power, declared President Alessandri in an address at an official reception to William M. Collier, of Auburn, N. Y., the new American ambassador.

The president said Chile was grateful for the assistance North Americans had given in its economic development. He believed Chile had the right to be considered as an interesting factor in the commercial activities of the future owing to its 3000 miles of coast line on the Pacific, its coal mines and its great ultrate fields.

Burglars Don't Seek the Light!

Darkness is their stock in trade. They work by stealth—unheard and unseen—their movements cloaked in secrecy. It's honest folks that see the light. They are the only ones who can risk it.

It's the same way in business. The merchant who is not sure of his goods does not dare to advertise. Advertising would hasten the end of his business career—put him to a test he could not meet.

The merchant who advertises, deliberately invites your inspection. He tells you about his product and then lets it stand on its own merits. You can depend on him. He knows his product is good.

That's one reason why it pays you to read the advertisements in THE BONANZA. It is through advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business houses are spending their money to introduce and keep before you.

Advertisements are interesting, instructive and profitable. They throw a powerful light on the very things that concern you most. READ THEM!
